Paradise International Hotel - Vava'u

Tonga

Tonga, on a South Pacific map is just west of the international dateline were it meets the Tropic of Cancer. It lies about two-thirds of the way between New Zealand and Hawaii. From the Island of Nuku Alofa the capital, Tonga stretches nearly 1000 kilometers to the Minerva Reef in the south. Tonga consists of 170 islands, with only 37 of these inhabited. There are many reasons to visit Tonga. The long expanses of golden sand beaches, crystal clear waters, dramatic coastal sceneryand volcanic peaks is just a start. The languid lifestyle makes the other pacific islands
